TAFT IS SPEAKER ON MEMORIAL DAY

Ten Thousand Veterans Hear the President at Arlington Cemetery.

STRONG PLEA TO AVOID WAR

Most Impressive and Most Largely Attended Celebration Ever Held in Washington—Soldiers of Civil War.

Washington, May 30.—Under the shaded arches of the Arlington National Cemetery, President Taft spoke today, not so much as the friend of peace, but as the enemy of war. Thousands of veterans tramped the hot asphalt of the capital's streets, crossed the Potomac and trudged the dusty roads to Arlington to hear the President speak. Thousands of others came in automobiles and by street car and when Mr. Taft, with Secretary of War Stimson, came whizzing up to the vine-covered amphitheatre there were fully 10,000 people in the seats and crowded about the speaker's stand. It was probably the most impressive and most largely attended Memorial Day Celebration Washington has seen.

"Far be it from me," said the President to minimize in anyway by these suggestions the debt we owe to the men buried here, who carried on the successful struggle that resulted in the abolition of the cancer of slavery, and which seemed ineradicable save by such an awful slaughter of the brightest and bravest and best of the nation's youth and manhood.

"I shall not stop to discuss whether it might have been possible to accomplish the same great reform by milder methods. Whether that be true or not, the supreme sacrifice of these men, who lie about us in the cause of advancing humanity can never be lessened or obscured by such a suggestion. But the thought at which I would but hint this morning is that even in the hallowed presence of these dead, whose ideals of patriotism and love of their countrymen it needed a war to make everlastingly evident, we should abate no effort and should strain every nerve and avail ourselves of every honorable possible device to avoid war in the future.

"I am not blind to the aid in creating sturdy manhood that the military discipline we see in the standing armies of Europe and in the regular army of this country furnished, nor do I deny the incidental benefits that may grow out of the exigencies and sequelae of war. But when the books are balanced, the awful horrors of either internecine or international strife far outweigh the benefits that may be traced to it.

"Let us leave this beautiful city of the National dead, therefore, with the deepest gratitude to the men whose valorous deeds we celebrate and whose memories we cherish, with the tenderest appreciation of the value of the examples they set, but with a determination in every way possible consistent with honesty and manly, and National self-restraint, to avoid the necessity for the display of that supreme self-sacrifice that we commemorate today in them."

"It was not long ago," the President said, when an insult by one man to another in the same social class could only be wiped out in blood, and it took more moral courage to avoid a duel than to fight one. But we have progressed away from that idea, he said.

"If that be true now, why may it not be true in the near future of nations? Why will it not show more patriotism and more love of country to refuse to go to war for an insult and to submit to the arbitrament of a peaceful tribunal, than to subject a whole people to the misery and suffering and burden of heavy cost of a National war, however, glossed over by the excitement and ambitions and glory of a successful conquest."

Memorial Day at Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—Memorial Day was fittingly observed here today, the address being delivered by Rev. A. D. Wilcox, one of the leading Methodist ministers of the city. The singing was conducted by the church choirs of the city. One of the features of the exercises at the National cemetery was the presence of a number of veterans from the Confederate Soldiers' Home, who assisted to decorate the graves of the union soldiers.

Memorial Day at Richmond.

Richmond, Va., May 30.—Memorial Day was celebrated here as a State and city holiday, with a parade of Confederate veterans and auxiliary orders to Hollywood cemetery.

The Richmond Howitzers, the First Virginia Infantry and the Blues' Battalion escorted the carriages of the old soldiers, who went out to honor their dead.

Baltimore Celebration.

Baltimore, May 30.—More than 10,000 members of Union and Confederate veterans in Baltimore cemeteries were decorated today by Grand Army posts. The Blue and the Gray literally clasped hands at the graves of Colonel Charles Marshall, who was chief of staff under General Robert E. Lee.

BRYAN FLAYS THE DEMOCRATS

Criticises Programme of His Party in House in Regard to Tariff Schedule on Wool Goods—Statement Read in Congress.

Washington, May 30.—William Jennings Bryan today took exception to the programme of his party in the House and criticised sharply the majority of the Democrats who have agreed to support the revised tariff schedule on wool and woolen goods. The criticism is contained in a statement made public through Representative Harrison, of New York.

Chairman Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee contented himself with the declaration that despite Mr. Bryan's stand the revised tariff would go through the Democratic caucus with a two-thirds majority.

"The Democratic voters," said Mr. Bryan, "know that all needed revenue can be raised in less oppressive ways and they know the argument that the tariff on wool is proposed as a revenue tariff is merely a subterfuge employed because those who employ it are ashamed to say that they favor protection."

The Nebraskan warned against the drift of Democrats toward a protective policy which he said is most marked in those Democrats who have "among their constituents influential beneficiaries of the system."

"The Republicans want protection on wool because they believe in the principle of protection," he declared. "Let no Democratic advocate of a tax on wool masquerade behind the pretense that he is voting for a revenue tariff; let him not add hypocricy to the sin which he commits against his party."

This criticism apparently directed at the party leaders in the House evoked no comment except the suggestion that the votes in the caucus would disclose that Mr. Bryan has only one-third of the Democrats in the House behind him.

Mr. Bryan insisted if protection was to be accepted as a Democratic doctrine that "it be accepted openly and applied to everything and to all sections," He said there is no reason for favoritism to a few sheep raisers at the expense of all who wear woolen clothing.

"Before the Democratic party is finally committed to the doctrine of protection," he declared, "it will be necessary to consult the voters of the party, and it may be well to remember that the voters of all parties are braver than the politicians. The Republican voters were brave enough to turn out a lot of Republican Aldriches; what reason have our Democratic Congressmen to think that Democratic voters are less courageous?"

Underwood Answers Bryan.

Washington, May 30.—Aroused by William J. Bryan's attack on Democrats, who favor a raw wool tariff, Democratic Leader Underwood made a statement tonight declaring Mr. Bryan's attitude "unjust and unfair," and disclosing that the wool tariffs to be submitted to Thursday's Democratic caucus are much the same as the Wilson bill wool schedules.

Mr. Bryan's defiance today of the party leaders in the House, has caused intense feeling in the party. Notwithstanding this, Mr. Underwood, as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee was insistent tonight in the prediction that the revenue wool bill will be approved by a big majority.

"In my judgment," said Mr. Underwood, in answer to Mr. Bryan, 'his statement is unjust and unfair to the members of the Ways and Means Committee and to the Democratic representatives in Congress, who will support the bill.

The Ways and Means Committee have cut in half the wheole wool schedule. They have reduced the duty on manufactured goods as low as they were under the Wilson bill that Mr. Bryan voted for when raw wool was placed on the free list. In that reduction they have fallen short of $40,000,000 now raised by wool by $13,000,000 and it was necessary in order to secure this revenue to place a revenue tax on raw wool imported into the United States.

"If the Wilson bill which Mr. Bryan voted for was an honest reduction of the tariff in the interest of the people, a bill that reduces the taxes on woolen goods which the people buy as low as under the bill Bryan voted for and advocated certainly cannot be a protective measure for this standpoint. The fact that in reducing these taxes on woolen goods we have levied a small tax on the manufacturers does not in any way increase the burden to the purchasers of woolen goods."

The Democratic leader explained that the party and the committee are confronted with a deficiency in the treasury; that the government needs more money and that the income tax is as yet unratified. He said the committee in reducing the tariff, has to so write the schedules that they would bring at least as much revenue as under the present law

"The Democratic party," Mr. Underwood concluded, "stands essentially for tariff for revenue which means we shall collect from the custom houses the revenue required for the expenses of the government. It does not stand for free trade and I do not believe when this bill is published and the people understand the facts they will be misled by the statements which Mr. Bryan has made."

WOODROW WILSON AT CHAPEL HILL

New Jersey's Governor Addresses Immense Audiance at University.

DEGREE IS CONFERRED ON HIM

"Democracy" Was His Theme Before Student Body—Received With Great Enthusiasm—Nothing About Presidency.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., May 30.—What was perhaps the most tremendous crowd ever assembled under the dome of Memorial Hall, composed the students, townspeople and people from all the country round Chapel Hill, heard Governor Woodrow Wilson deliver the principal address at the 116th commencement of the University of North Carolina.

The academic procession marched up the aisle to the music of the University orchestra. After the exercises had been opened with prayer by Rev. D. W. L. Smith, President Venable introduced Governor Wilson. As Dr. Wilson advanced to the front the audience rose as one man and clapped their hands for several moments.

Governor Wilson said in part:

"I have presided over many a commencement, but I have made few commencement addresses. I have frequently given advice, but it has been principally to young men that I have taught. I got up this morning feeling a little gloominess on account of my personal separation from the young gentlemen about to graduate. I wish to address myself to young men today, not because as usually the reason given, they will some day be mature men, but because this is with them a veritable starting point in life, and even a starting point in the Nation itself. This nation is coming to itself and we must ask you for what port we are bound. By what chart do we sail. Man comes to himself when he has found his relation to his place. Kipling's "ship that found herself," is an illustration of my point.

"Man must find his place in the game of life where he does not set the rules and must win his individual place. A man goes out from the classic shades of a university with stiff notions which require adjustment. He has learned that a body falls in a vacuum unpulled by other bodies at a given rate, but outside a vacuum other forces must be reckoned and adjusted. Do not take yourselves as an abstract proposition; it's all right to go out with a certain consequential air for it will be so very brief. I would not deprive you of its enjoyment (much laughter) but the world is going to digest you.

"Are you digestible? Will you sit well upon the stomach of the world? Will you be palatable or disagreeable? Men will test you and will either absorb you or reject you. We must adapt ourselves to things. I hear much nonsense about practical studies. It doesn't do to raise such questions. Dr. Hodge once asked a young man if he could smoke and be a Christian. The collegian asked, "do you know anything in the Scriptures to the contrary?" On receiving a negative reply the student said: "Do not put your own interpretation on the scriptures or you may smoke hereafter." Nor must you put your private interpretation on the principles of life or you will smoke with heat from the friction of adjustment. Affairs need now to be adjusted politically. There is a growing cynicism on the part of young men in respect to politics. Men hate to plunge into the game and defile themselves. Ideals are thought to be things with which practical politics cannot deal. There is today a movement towards socialism resting not upon the hope that their programme can be carried out, but upon disgust with existing conditions. I know a socialist mayor who admits that the vote electing him was 20 per cent. socialist and 80 per cent. protest. There is a growing number of protesting votes.

Men Hope Nothing From Parties.

"The President of the United States recently came here and offered the South a profitable partnership in with the Republican party, an alliance between the business interests of the country. He did not say just this, but we could read between the lines. I mean no reflection upon President Taft, for I believe him an upright man; doubtless he himself does not read between the lines their real meaning.

This speech is moreover no indictment of parties for there is an historical explanation.

"When we came to this continent we had no capital but muscles and brains. Our ancestors, pioneers, brought few tools and for 100 years they fought a difficult battle to overcome the resistance of nature. There were forests and waterpower but few men. For 100 years we had only men with which to work. They worked by force of unassisted brains to make the world respect us and called on the old world to send us men. Then we turned our forces westward. The pioneers called to the men of the East, "come on with money and we will give you any sort of franchise you wish."

"Men came and were given kingdoms and empires. But now the people have awaked to find themselves in the employ of the men asked to do

SOUTHERN IN MORE TROUBLE

Engineers Now Make Demand for More Pay, and Strike Threatens—Committee in Washington—Firemen Negotiating.

Washington, May 30.—A new wage demand is to be made upon the Southern Railway. With that of the 2,000 or more firemen yet before the system's officials, and the action in doubt, a committee of twenty, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, arrived here tonight to push a claim of the engine-drivers on the Southern for an increase of approximately twenty-five per cent. over their present pay.

Some time ago a slight increase was allowed the engineers. They now believe that was inadequate.

Strike talk is heard from the engineers as well as from the firemen. The committee expects to discuss the wage question with President Finley, of the Southern, tomorrow. A member of the committee tonight asserted that the failure of the Southern to grant their demand would mean that the 1,400 engineers on the road would quit their jobs.

Representatives of the approximately 2,000 firemen on the Southern Railway, who are demanding a twenty per cent. increase in wages, together with officials of the Southern today, again appeared before the government mediation board in an effort to effect an amicable adjustment. Both sides held long conferences with the mediators, but they announced no conclusions. The firemen still contend they will not accept anything under the 20 per cent. increase and will strike if the mediators are not able to solve the problem.

Both sides expect a settlement tomorrow.

PORTSMOUTH MAN ACQUITTED.

Bank Cashier Found Not Guilty on Last Indictment—Up to Governor.

Norfolk, a., May 30.—A. B. Butt, cashier of the wrecked People's Bank, at Portsmouth, reindicted after serving three years in the penitentiary upon a plea of guilty, was tonight acquitted by a jury on the last of the pending inidctments against him, and will be a free man, if Governor Mann remits fines aggregating $7,000, which were imposed upon the defendant at the time he was originally sentenced, upon his plea of guilty. Governor Mann now has the matter under advisement.

Judge Bain, in reelasing Butt tonigat informed him that the release was subject only to the action of the governor in the matter of application for remittance of fine. If the governor declines to remit the fine, Butt, according to Judge Bain's ruling, must go to jail for three months more.

EFFECT OF THE DECISION.

Tobacco Trust Litigation Being Discussed at Durham, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., May 30.—It was thought by many people that the dissolution of the American Tobacco Company according to the decision of the Supreme Court yesterday would greatly demoralize the business interests of Durham because of the fact that the big corporation has such extensive interests here. It is claimed here today that the dissolution will not effect Durham interests in the least because of the fact that there is such a great demand all over the world for the particular brand of smoking tobacco that is made here. The goods enjoy the wide sale it is said, not because they are made by a large corporation instead of by small concerns, but because of the quality.

STATESVILLE MAN CONFESSES.

Reuben Combs Admitted He Killed 16-Years-Old Wife.

Statesville, N. C., May 30.—Confessing to the murder of his 16-years-old wife, to whom he was married four months ago, Reuben Combs, a young farmer of Stoney Point, Iredell county, was committed to jail without bail today by a coroner's jury. Combs contended that his wife wandered from her room while asleep and that he found her dead body on a lot. Strychnine was found in her stomach.

FATAL AUTO RACE WON BY HARROUN

One Life Crushed Out and Several Injured on Indianapolis Speedway.

MANY THOUSAND SPECTATORS

S. P. Dickson, of Chicago, Was Victim—Mulford Second and Bruce-Brown Third—Exciting Events of the Day.

Motor Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—One life was sacrificed and several men were injured in the first 500-mile motor race on a speedway. The great test of skill and endurance was won by Ray Harroun, driving a Marmon car in 6:41:08. Ralph Mulford, with a Lozier, finished second, and David Bruce-Brown drove a Fiat to third place.

Many thousands of spectators witnessed the race which started at 10 o'clock this morning with 40 pilots in the contest.

In the most serious accident of the day S. P. Dickson, of Chicago, mechanician for Arthur Greiner, driving an Amplex, lost his life by an upset on the back stretch. The Amplex was on its 13th mile when the rim of one of the front wheels flew off. The car twisted and hopped about on the track, hurling Greiner and Dickson from their seats. Dickson was thrown against a fence 20 feet from the car and terribly mangled. He was killed instantly.

Greiner was knocked unconscious, but after he had been revived at the field hospital, it was found that his only injury was a fractured arm. Then followed a series of accidents which thrilled the immense crowd. Men injured in the mishaps were:

Dave Lewis, mechanician for Teddy Tedelaff (Lozier), right leg broken near hip.

Harry Knight, driver of Westcott, breast bruised and possibly internal injuries.

John T. Glover, Knight's mechanician, body bruised.

Bob Evans, mechanician for Jack Tower, (Jackson), body bruised when he leaped from car.

John Wood, mechanician for Joe Jagersburger (Case), run over and bruised after leaping from car.

The crowd was too big to be controlled by the company of militia and the hundreds of special policemen posted about the grounds. The spectators swarmed across the infield when Dickson was killed and pressed close about his body and that of the unconscious Griener. Soldiers had to club their guns to clear a space for the surgeons when the ambulance arrived.

The throng was wild with excitement after the first accident and rushed back and forward over the field when other accidents were reported from one point or another around the two and a half mile track.

At the 150-mile mark Bruce-Brown set a new record, regardless of classification. His time was 1:59:12 as against Dawson's old mark of 2:01:09.

Harroun took the lead in the 190th mile and the race took form from what had appeared to be a parade of machines. Then cars began to cast tires, burned out by the fierce grind over the brick pavement. Steering gears began to give way. At the front of the grand stand Joe Jaegerburger's Case car got away from him and switched back and forth across the track. Wood, the mechanician, leaped out and fell. The car passed over him. Other cars were rushing him but all swerved safely by Ashrose and staggered from the track except Harry Knight's Westcott. This car plunged to the inner fence, threw Knight and Glover and careened against Herbert Lyttle's Apperson, turning it over.

When the race was half over Louis Disbrow's Pope-Hartford threw a tire at the entrance of the home stretch and swerved in front of Tetzlaff's Lozier. In the collision the rear wheels of Disbrow's car were torn off, and the Lozier turned turtle. Tetzlaff's mechanician was caught under the car and his leg broken. Hysterical screams of women started a small stampede in the grandstand when Burman's Benz cast a tire into the air and over the retining wall. Harroun kept in front, earning shouts of encouragement. When he swept into the home stretch on his last lap and Starter Wagner gave him the finishing flag, the speedway enclosure rang with applause.

At the end of the first 100 miles Bruce Brown was first, Mulford, second and Tetzlaff third. At 150 miles, Harroun took second place. From 190 miles Harroun held the lead to the end. Bruce-Brown and Mulford fluctuated in the second and third places from the 200 mile mark and seesawing between 400 and 450 miles before the judges were certain the last lap, who would take second place. Bruce-Brown and Mulford were at all stages of the race contenders for the lead, and a delay of more than tire changing time by Harroun would have meant certain loss of the contest.

Toward the end of the race the three were little more than 30 seconds apart. All three handled their cars in masterly fashion.

The first ten men to finish the race with their winnings follow:

Ray Harroun, Marmon, $10,000; Ralph Mulford, Lozier, $5,000; D. Bruce-Brown, Fiat, $3,000; Spencer Wishart, Mercedes, $2,000; Ralph DePalma, Simplex, $1,500; Charles Merz, National, $1,000; W. H. Turner, Amplex, $800; Harry Cobe, Jackson, $700; Fred Belcher, Knox, $600; Hughies Hughes, Mercer, $500.

In addition to this sum in gold the leading ten drivers shared in a distribution of side prizes given by Accessory makers, amounting to nearly $15,000.

The drivers of the ten leading cars will also receive bronze plaques from the speedway management.

Harroun was born at Spartanburg, Pa., and is 29 years old. He holds a long list of records and has won many trophies. Harroun won more firsts than any other driver during 1910. He has won the 200-mile trophy, the Atlanta Speedway trophy, Los Angeles Motordrome 100-mile stock chassis trophy and the two hours' free for all trophy of Lon Angeles Motordrome.

ROOSEVELT'S WORDS CHEERED

Declared Unrighteous Peace Greater Evil Than War—Spoke at Memorial Day Exercises—Refers to Arbitration.

New York, May 30.—Theodore Roosevelt stood beside Gen. Daniel W. Sickles, the only surviving division commander of the Civil War, at Grant's tomb this afternoon and aroused a memorial day throng to long applause by a denunciation of "false apostles of peace." He stirred the gathering to tumultuous cheers with the declaration that unrighteous peace was a greater evil than war.

"I believe in National and International peace," he said, "but I stand for it only as the handmaiden of justice. Do not be misled by the appeals of men who want peace. You men recall that in the days of '61 there were cries for peace, but there was no peace. There was a man who said that war was the greatest of all evils, but I believe that unrighteous peace is a greater evil. You are not to be led by the false apostles of peace, you who defied the lie told in '61 when that lie was told in the name of peace.

"I stand for social and industrial peace, when it is right, but not when men riot and use dynamite. Those men who pursue riotous methods and use dynamite in their efforts to win their industrial struggles are not to be tolerated, and they should be made to obey the law.

"I want peace with every nation and do not see any reason of any sort why we should not have it for an indefinite period as long as other nations behave themselves and act in such a manner as not to rob us of our self-respect. I don't want to ask stronger nations to be good to us because I fear being hurt by them, but I do ask that big nations be good to us for fear we may hurt them.

"I want to have the navy kept up A powerful navy is no provocative for war, but is a provocation for peace. All nations will keep peace with us if we keep up a first-class navy and men who know how to handle the ships.

"You may think because I talk, I talk against the interest of peace. That is not so. I am talking profoundly in the interest of peace. I believe that every honorable method should be used to avoid war, but I will do nothing dishonorable to avert it, nor will I enter into any agreement that people of the country would repudiate, should cause arise for participating in war.

"So far as my voice has weight I will protest against this country's making agreement to arbitrate anything of any kind which the country would not stand for when a test came. For instance, this country would not stand for arbitration over the Monroe Doctrine nor would they consent to an agreement permitting Asiatic peoples to come into this country in unlimited numbers.

"If you don't think so go out on the Pacific coast and talk to the people there.

"I do not believe that this country should enter into any agreement unless it is prepared to keep it in good faith. Beware of any other course.

"Arbitration is all right under favorable conditions. If I had trouble with one of you men we could readily settle it by appointing an outside party to arbitrate because we know that man won't slap either of our faces. If he does we won't arbitrate. It is just the same with international arbitration. I believe in arbitration only to the understanding that international slapping of faces is not included. That is genuine peace talk."

LESLIE SHAW AT RALEIGH.

Denounces Initiative and Referendum and Direct Vote Plan.

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—In a commencement address before the students of Meredith College here today, Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, ex-Governor of Iowa and ex-Secretary of the Treasury, strongly denounced the initiative and referendum and the election of United States senators by direct vote, declaring these principles to be out of harmony with the spirit of the constitution. It is thought by some, in fact, Mr. Shaw intimated as much, that he meant for his remarks to be noticed by Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, who speaks here tomorrow, having accepted an invitation.

Mr. Shaw emphasized his opinion that in a representative government like this the representatives should use their own judgment and not be guided by popular whims in great crises, that popular demand was often wrong. The people are interested to know whether Governor Wilson will answer Mr. Shaw tomorrow.

'RULE OF REASON' TO FIGHT TRUSTS

Government's Future Prosecutions in Accord With Court's Recent Action.

VIEWS ON THE TOBACCO CASE

Resolution in Congress Urging Criminal Prosecution of American Tobacco Officers—Justice Harlan Dissents.

Washington, May 30.—That the government means to formulate its anti-trust policies in accord with the "rule of reason" as laid down by the Supreme Court in the Standard Oil and tobacco trust decisions, notwithstanding the vigorous dissents of Associate Justice Harlan, and the large number of bills introduced in the Senate to amend the Sherman anti-trust law, was made evident today.

Administration officials after a day's consideration and study of the tobacco decision and a thorough comparison with the Standard decision, were agreed that the "rule of reason" is no new feature of the Supreme Court's interpretation of law, and one member of the cabinet, whose views have always been regarded as reflecting those of the administration, made a comparative statement to that effect.

A resolution calling upon the Attorney General to inform the House whether he has undertaken criminal prosecution of the American Tobacco Company and its officers, was introduced today by Representative Bryens, of Tennessee. If such prosecution has not been instituted, the Attorney General is asked to explain his reasons.

In the opinion of friends of the administration the tobacco decision indicates that there will be no attempt made for the present to amend the Sherman anti-trust law or to press for the enactment of other trust legislation. The next movement for further anti-trust legislation probably will be made, if at all, at the regular session of Congress next December.

The statement above referred to was attributed to "an official close to the administration." It follows in part:

"Justice Harlan in his dissenting opinion in the tobacco case, objects vigorously to the application in the construction of the act of Congress of the 'rule of reason' to which attention was called by the Chief Justice in his opinion in the Standard Oil case and again in the tobacco case. Justice Harlan declares that to insert by construction the word 'unreasonable' or 'undue' in the Sherman act is judicial legislation. Congress, he says, has in language so clear and simple that there is no room whatever for construction signified its purpose to forbid every restraint of trade in whatever form, to whatever extent, whereas the court under the Chief Justice's opinion, inserts in the law words which make Congress say that it means only to prohibit 'undue' restraint of trade. This he objects to as amounting to a reading into the act by judicial legislation of an exception not placed there by the law making branch of the government and this, he contends, the court cannot, and ought not, to do.

"But Justice Harlan has not always regarded the judicial function as excluding the right to interpret statutes in the light of reason and to refuse a literal application to the words of the act where that would involve a manifest wrong. In the case of Church of the Holy Trinity against the United States, the court had under consideration the act of Congress known as the alien immigration act, passed February 26, 1885. The Church of the Holy Trinity in New York, had made a contract with Rev. E. Walpole Warren, an alien residing in England to remove to New York and enter into its service as its rector and pastor for a compensation to be paid to him; and because of that contract, an action was brought against the church by the United States to recover the penalty prescribed for a violation of this act. Justice Brewer wrote the opinion of the court in which all the other justices, including Justice Harlan, concurred. He promised by conceding 'That the Act of the Corporation is within the letter of this section, for the relation of rector to his church is one of service and implies labor on the one side, with compensation on the other.'

"He further noted that certain specific exceptions made in the act in which clergymen were not included strengthened the idea that every other kind of labor and service was intended to be reached by the statute. Yet notwithstanding all of that it was said that that court could not think that Congress intended to denounce with penalties a transaction like the employment of a Christian minister.

"'It is a familiar rule,' said Justice Brewer, 'that a thing be within the letter of the statute and yet not within the statute, because not within its spirit, nor within the intention of its makers. This has been often asserted and the reports are full of cases illustrating its application. This is not the substitution of the will of the judge for that of the legislator, for frequently words of general meaning are used in a statute words board enough to include an act in question and yet

Afternoon Games:

New York, May 30. — The holiday visit of the cross-river Brooklyns to New York resulted in the loss of two games to the Giants by scores of 4 to 1 and 3 to 0. Raymond had to quit the box in the fifth inning because of a slight attack of ptomaine poisoning. He had held the Brooklyns to only one hit, and Ames, who succeeded him, allowed only two more.

MRS. FRANKLIN'S ILLNESS.

Members of Family Are Again Summoned to Wilmington.

Yesterday afternoon's Charlotte Chronicle says:

"Mr. Orin Franklin left Monday for Wilmington in response to a message saying that his mother, Mrs. J. B. Franklin, was worse, being unconscious. Capt. T. S. Franklin, who was in Columbia on business, was wired and he left immediately for the bedside of his aged mother.

"Two weeks ago Mrs. Franklin suffered a stroke of paralysis, which deprived her of her sight and rendered her unconscious.

"A telegram received by Mrs. Franklin this morning stated that it was only a question of a few hours. Mrs. Franklin formerly resided in this city and is beloved by a host of friends who will be distressed to learn of her extreme illness. For the past number of years she has made her home with her only daughter, Mrs. W. E. Pickard, of Wilmington, though she spent a portion of each year with her sons Capt. T. S. Franklin and Mr. Orin Franklin, in this city. On account of her advanced years little hope of recovery was felt from the first. Mrs. Franklin celebrated her 79th birthday last February."

New York, May 30.—John W. Gates sailed for Europe today without a word to say about his testimony given before the Congressional Committee investigating the United States Steel Corporation, when he declared the sale of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company to the steel corporation was "forced." Mr. Gates declined to be interviewed on his departure and it was given out that he would be away for three months.

How the Benthall Peanut Picker Pays for Itself in a Season

If you grow peanuts you can't afford not to own a Benthall Peanut Picker. The machine will pay for itself the first season.

Yes, siree! with one, you and your boys can do the work of a hundred hands and do it better. You avoid losses from stealing. You get your crop off to market early—get highest prices. It makes peanut growing doubly profitable. That's what it does.

Our recleaning and bagging attachment makes it unnecessary to run peanuts over for seed a second time—makes them absolutely clean—free from tops, roots and pieces of vine.

The Benthall is a picker and not a "thresher." It picks both Spanish and Virginia peanuts as perfectly as human as fingers. It keeps the vines for hay!

Other machines that thresh them crack the nuts so that they will not keep—grind the vines to smithereens, so that they are unfit for feed. The Benthall is the picker of proven worth—tried out in the peanut fields of old Virginia.

The Benthall is almost wearproof and is sold under guarantee.

Write now for our FREE booklet "How the Benthall Pays for Itself."

CHILD SWALLOWS KEROSENE.

Death Results in Unusual Manner at Rocky Mount—Funeral Held.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, May 30.—Mistaking a small amount of kerosine, carelessly left in a cup by a servant for the purpose of starting a fire, for water, Julia Lewis, the 18-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lewis, of this place, drank the liquid this evening and died within a short time thereafter. The cook had poured the oil in the cup and gone in the yard for some wood, while the child was playing about the floor in the kitchen. When she returned, she discovered that the child had swallowed some of the liquid and although medical assistance was immediately summoned and everything possible was done to save the child, it was all to no avail. The funeral was held from the saddened home at 5 o'clock this afternoon and the interment was in Pineview cemetery.

AFFAIRS IN COLUMBUS.

Farmers Give Gloomy Report—Other News of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., May 30.—Farmers in town today give gloomy reports of the cotton crop. They say cotton planted late may come up, but that put in early is no good. The seed have all rotted and it will never come up. Those who expect to make a crop had as well prepare to plant over again. Many say they will put the land set aside for cotton in corn and peas, as it is rather late to risk a crop of the staple maturing.

Mr. Harry Yates, the young man near Chadbourn who was bitten by a snake while fishing in Porter Swamp, it is now thought will recover, but he came very near dying.

Mr. Ira Penn, a splendid young man of Broadway, in this county, went to a hospital in Wilmington to be operated on for appnedicitis. The operation was performed and for some days his condition seemed hopeful, but a change for the worse set in and he died. His remains were laid to rest in Chadbourn cemetery.

Mr. E. J. Britt has completed a handsome two-story brick building in Chadbourn. The lower floor has been rented to Miller & Houston, to be used as a furniture store. The upper floor is a large, beautiful hall, and this is to serve as a town hall and be used by the various lodges, Masonic, Pythian and Woodmen.

The plans are in and already steps are being taken for the erection of a new school house at Chadbourn. Sand is being hauled and soon brick and other material will be on the ground.

Besides blowing down the store of Mr. F. L. Schulken at Vineland Friday night, a new five-room house, belonging to Jim Ellis, a colored man, also of Vineland, was completely demolished. It is not thought that much lumber from either of these buildings can be used over.

Miss Bessie Baldwin, in charge of the music department of the Tabor High School, spent last night in Whiteville. She says her class will have a concert Thursday night, which closes her school. She will next season take charge of the music department of the school at Dothan.

The past few days they have been shipping from two to three car loads of berries a day from Tabor, but it is thought today will wind up the season and all the buyers will leave. There is a good sprinkling of berries yet in the fields, but it hardly pays to gather them at the price offered. They are extra fine, too.

Mr. Tom Sessions, of Welches' Cheek township, has found on his land a vast deposit of phosphate rock. He has had it analyzed and it is said to be equal to the Florida and Tennessee rock. There are untold millions buried in the soil of Columbus county that only needs the developing touch of capital.

Our people are enthused over the good news that the money is in hand to complete the Trans-Continental Railway to Southport. A letter has been received in Whiteville stating that the work of grading will start on both ends and that the road will be pressed to completion.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL.

Counsel for New Road Talks of Construction of New Line.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., May 30.—W. E. Breese, the counsel for the Transcontinental railway, arrived here Sunday from Raleigh where he attended a meeting of the officials of the road. Mr. Breese is very enthusiastic concerning the prospects of the proposed road which will run from the Tennessee coal fields to the sea. Mr. Breese said: "Construction work is now going on in Haywood county and has been since December; it will continue until the completion of the road. The people of the western part of the State can look forward to the construction and operation of a competing line of railroad within the next two years.

A force of surveyors is now at work in the Hominy Valley, about ten miles from Asheville, and the line has been located for several miles down this valley.

REFUSED CONSENT TO OPERATION

Mrs. Jett, of McMinnville, Refused to be Operated on, but Took Cardui Instead and Was Cured.

McMinnville, Tenn.—"Having used Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, and knowing its value, I can truthfully praise it," writes Mrs. Ocie Jett, of this place.

"I don't believe I would be living today if it hadn't been for Cardui.

"After my baby was born, I lay in bed for 27 days and the doctor came every day, but he did no good.

"Finally, he advised an operation, but I would not consent, and instead took five bottles of Cardui, and now I am going about the house doing my work and even do my washing.

"I can say that Cardui worked wonders in my case. When I commenced to use it I wasn't able to sit up. Now I am in better health than I have been for five years."

Try Cardui. It is a strengthening tonic for women. It relieves pain, tones up the nerves, builds strength.

It has been doing this for 50 years. Have you tried it? No? Then begin trying it today. It may be just what you need. Your druggist sells it.

CAROLINIANS AT WASHINGTON

Senate is Dilatory—Lorimer and His Case—Wilmingtonians Guests at Capital—Valuable Publications Issued.

(By H. E. C. Bryant.)

Washington, May 30.—The extra session of the 62nd Congress is now well under way. The House has passed some important measures and the Senate is almost ready to get in the game. Being a rough and ready sort of body and composed largely of Democrats just in from a rest of 15 years, the House is swifter on foot than the Senate, the more conservative wing of the legislative branch of government.

Chairman Oscar W. Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee, has passed the Canadian reciprocity bill, the Farmers' Free List bill, the New Mexico and Arizona Statehood resolution, the popular election bill for United States Senators, the campaign publicity bill, and will soon pass up the wool bill. The Senate has organized and held some hearings on the reciprocity bill. That is where they stand today. Senator LaFollette has brought up the Lorimer case again. Lorimer is scheduled for a fall. He can not withstand the assault longer. New evidence has risen to dam him. But, there are some who believe that LaFollette is not half so much interested in purifying the Senate as he is in defeating the Canadian reciprocity bill, which is not popular in the Northwest. If he can keep the Senate busy on Lorimer all Summer he may prevent a vote on the proposed treaty.

Lorimer is a strange freak. He looks like a sanctified man. He drinks not, gambles not, nor does he dip snuff or chew tobacco, but he is charged with being a real devil in harness at election time. He was born in England, came here a poor boy, sold papers in Chicago, and was conductor on a street car when he entered politics. Regardless of the fact that one of the greatest political rings that ever existed fought him from the time he organized his first Republican club, he climbed the ladder of fame. The Chicago Tribune, one of the greatest papers of the age, has never failed to abuse him. He charged on the floor of the Senate that the Tribune was stealing from the school fund of Chicago something like $75,000 a year by a contract for a lot on which its plant stands. That, he claims, is one of the reasons for the terrific fight on him.

I have no idea who is right. The "Goody-goody man" has never appealed to me. Lorimer ought to chew tobacco or do something else equally as bad to make him right. The Blond Boss should not spend all his time with his family and in the political arena. He is liked personally. His large head, covered with thick shaggy, coffee colored hair, is the most striking part about him. Dreamy eyes, heavy face and lazy amble are personal assets. If he goes down in the Senate, Chicago will send him back to Congress—perhaps to the House, where he served for years, instead of the Senate. His Chicago constituents like him. It would be quite a task here to pick the goats from the sheep.

The House members are having holidays galore. They are waiting on the Senate. They meet and adjourn and go home. Dozens of the representatives are in their districts, some pouring oil on troubled waters, some planting their crops, and others telling of the big speeches they made in the House. This will keep up for months.

The Agricultural Department has issued bulletins on bees and woodpeckers. One tells how to get honey from the bee and the other tells how the woodpecker gets worms out of a tree. Both are interesting. Any country boy can have them by writing to his Congressman. I would have been happy with the story of the woodpecker when I lived in Providence, where the red head, the high hole, and the sapsuckers are plentiful.

Representative Webb is sending to the lawyers of his district copies of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the Standard Oil Company against the United States. He is asking for an expresion of opinion concerning it. He is sending to the doctors of the district a paper by Major F. F. Russell, of the United States army, on "The Control of Typhoid in the Army by Vaccination."

Uncle Sam is issuing some valuable bulletins nowadays. He covers a wide range of subjects and gives the observations and views of experts.

Messrs. H. C. McQueen, Brooke Empie, Eugene Martin and George Rountree, of Wilmington, were here yesterday. They went down the Potomac with Pembroke Jones.

H. L. Stevens, of Warsaw, F. B. McKinne and J. A. Turner, of Louisburg; Walter Watson, of Raleigh, and Duncan McEachern, of Wilmington, are here today.

George Allen Mebane, of Spray, has been awarded the scholarship at the University by Representative Small, for the best essay on "Peace by Arbitration." This is given by the American Peace and Arbitration League. Young Mebane is a student at Bingham School, at Asheville.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only, 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

A girl who is proud of her dimpled, lilly-white hand ought to compare it with mother's.

The editor of the Charleston News and Courier says there are too many lawyers. That's the way it looks to every fellow, even when there is only one lawyer on his trail.

When no alimony is mentioned in a divorce suit, it's a sign the old man hasn't got anything worth taking away from his before he is cut adrift on the sea of matrimony.

Atlanta wants the National Democratic convention to meet in that city next year. In order to be considered eligible, Atlanta will pretend that it is only in the edge of dry territory.

St. Louis ministers who played a game of baseball with Seminary students wanted to jump on the umpire. Verily, verily, it seems that the umpire is never safe in any crowd of fans.

Artist Bob Chalner is anxious for his divorced wife, Lina Cavaleirie pose for his painting "A Perfect Woman." If she accepts, it won't be the first time that paint covered over some of her defects.

A court is trying to decide the question, "What is a pedestrian?" We should say that, for one thing, a pedestrian is a fool if he doesn't be careful when he tries to cross the street in this era of automobiles.

It is a misdemeanor to kill time if those who kill it haven't any visible means of support. No man ought to be guilty of killing time even if he can offer the most positive proof that he doesn't have to hustle for his meal ticket.

Says the Philadelphia Inquirer: "Prof. See, the well known astronomer, says Venus is capable of supporting men." Yes but the question is whether she wouldn't throw it up to him every time she'd send him after a soup bone.

North Carolina was proud to have Governor Woodrow Wilson as the commencement orator at her State University. North Carolinians are glad to see him, but he didn't have to come. It was already unanimous before he got here.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "As soon as time serves, Democrats should declare to those who will not obey party law that their services are no longer desired by the party. Men may be bigger than the party, but they are not of the party unless they keep in the party path." Of course, it will be severe punishment to put them out with the little, old shrunken Republican minority, but at the same time we may as well keep them in the party as they may start something.

The Atlanta Constitution of Tuesday printed a striking cartoon headed "Peace—Everywhere But at Home." It showed the following sickening detail of crime in the United States committed in one day last Sunday: Seven negroes lynched in the Southern States; pistol duel between conductor and irate passenger on a Georgia train; woman shot to death near Harriman, Tenn.; farmer assassinated near Crawfordville, Ga.; prominent citizen shot to death at Decherd, Tenn.; Herbert Cobb at Hopkinsville, Ky., killed his sweetheart and then committed suicide. And that was not the whole record. Out of the entire list is small hope for a legal penalty in a single case. No wonder the people are calling on the courts loudly for protection and redress.—Chattanooga Times.

WHAT IS ADVERTISING A CITY?

This is the subject in which Wilmington has been interested for a long time and which our Chamber of Commerce will soon be engaged. Under the new city charter the city council is authorized to appropriate $10,000 for publicity and when that fund is available the work should be commenced without delay.

It is not worth while, however, to wait till the money is in hand before an advertising campaign shall have been outlined and adopted. The plan of a publicity campaign is everything, and the character, the aims and the purposes of our municipal advertising are the most vital features of such work. Plans should be studied as early as possible and one agreed upon and systematically carried out.

Advertising, these days, is a profession and that is the reason cities are employing experienced men to do the work so it will be done right. Money can be thrown away in a hurry in some kinds of advertising that isn't worth a shuck, but the biggest kind of results can be obtained from the publicity that will reach millions at a minimum of cost. Every dollar so spent should be made to count, for every useless word and unnecessary platitude costs money.

In the first place, if the Chamber is going to get up its own advertising matter, it is absolutely necessary to have a plan, and carry it out. When a feasible plan shall have been decided upon, it must be determined what it is we have to advertise. After that is agreed upon the next question is where to advertise, and what kind of mediums are to be adopted. Finally, the subject matter of the advertisements and the preparation of the right kind of advertising matter, is where we will win or lose.

It isn't worth while to waste much time deciding on a plan, and there is no need of experimenting and wasting money learning the game. Other cities have solved the problem after throwing away thousands of dollars in getting experience. We do not have to go any farther than Jacksonville, Florida, or Houston, Texas, to find out the advertising plan that gets public attention. Seattle, Portland, Oakland, Los Angeles, Denver, Oklahoma City, several Texas cities, and some closer home, have long since quit throwing away money on long "write-ups" or page ads in bulky publications which are never read by the class of people that it is desired to reach. Most people throw those sorts of publications in the waste basket rather than wade through them. We guess you have done the same thing. Most people have.

Cities which we have named quit long-winded "write-ups" fifteen years ago, and got down to business. They quit paying for publishing historical and descriptive matter and began to spend their money for real publicity and advertising that goes right to the meat of what they have to advertise. We speak from observation and experience when we say that the best of all plans are those of Jacksonville and Houston, embracing newspaper bureau work and what is known as "follow up" advertising. Bureau publicity is broadcasted as attractive newspaper articles, well written and brief, containing as much valuable and readible matter as they do the publicity that catches. Haven't you read them under the date line of Texas cities, San Antonio and Houston, for instance? No doubt you have. Millions of people have read them without knowing that their real purpose is to magnify the advantages and glories of Texas and make people want to go to the Lone Star State.

Didn't you ever notice how Jacksonville made good by the "follow up" plan? In short, the most effective "follow up" plan is to advertise briefly in magazines and newspapers, and follow up inquiries, or answers to advertisements, by mailing back folders or booklets on the specific feature that was advertised. All such advertising matter should be as brief and as attractive as possible. There should be no circumlocution and vagueness or waste of words and space, but the contents should get right to the meat of the proposition.

We say "proposition," because that is what a city ought to advertise—definite propositions. An advertisement of an indefinite, purposeless nature is money thrown away. The merchant who advertises himself as "dealer in hardware of all description," simply lets people know the kind of business he is in, but the hardware man who advertises that he sells $1.50 axes at $1.00 and $30 refrigerators at $20, or such like bargains, is going to make his advertising pay. Somebody is sure to go around to investigate, but when he simply advertise that he is a "hardware dealer," no one doubts it and will hardly take the trouble to investigate. The advertising which pays is the advertisement which makes definite, attractive propositions and guarantees to make good what is proposed. The man who has a genuine bargain in his store has something that actually calls for an advertisement, and if he does not advertise it he certainly cannot expect people to guess what he has in stock. He will be pretty apt to keep it, whereas by advertising it he is more likely to sell one hundred where he would only sell a few by leaving it to people to stumble in on his bargains. The merchant who has an attractive proposition that he could make, and neglects to make, is asleep.

So it is with a city. The city must have something worth advertising. It must be advertised as a worthwhile proposition and the advertisement of it should have a definite aim to it. If an advertisement is merely a random statement, no one will sit up and take notice. If however, it comes down to business, you will hear from it.

Every city that wants to advertise should first agree upon its "City Plan"—not its advertising plan, which comes later. The idea now is to map out a city plan of some description and work up that plan and give attractive publicity to that definite object and purpose. We may have a plan to make Wilmington an industrial city. What is that plan? We may desire to build up our commerce by setting on foot a great plan for the betterment of our harbor facilities. What is that definite commerce-making plan? We really desire to attract settlers to the fine trucking region around Wilmington. Have we adopted any plan to do it or do we just simply "want" to do it? We would like to do all these things, but it isn't a question of liking to do it. It is a question of deciding to do it on definite, business-like plans based upon systematic efforts. Somebody has got to carry out those plans, too, for what is everybody's business is nobody's business. We will find that out before we go very far in building up Wilmington.

To sum up any city's boosting proposition in a nutshell, it is essential—first, to decide on what we are going to try to do; next, advertise our purpose and definite plans according to well-known methods of publicity. It might as well be said that meeting only every now and then will never build any city on an extensive scale. It is a business that has to have somebody attending to it all the time, and who ever that is can benefit from the meetings and the public sentiment that may be behind him or his executive force. What's everybody's business is nobody's business.

Wake up on the subject and get right.

WAR BETWEEN WOMEN AND MEN

A small size war has broken out in Baltimore between the women and the men, but it is a war of words. The army and navy are not messing in the trouble, for it is just a battle of uncomplimentary things the Baltimoreanas and the Baltimoreans have been hurling at each other. A preacher stirred up the trouble and now he will have to start a peace movement. As was hereinbefore remarked, however, it is only a war of words, and that is right where the men will be outclassed as to artillery.

The Rev. Dr. H. M. Wharton, pastor of the Brantly Baptist church, of Baltimore, has been trying to find out why men do not care to marry and why women are slow to become hampered with the bonds of matrimony. He has been preaching a series of sermons on the subject and they have been of an exceedingly interesting and practical nature. Indeed, they have been illuminating.

In order to help out his sermons and give local significance to them, the minister invited men to write him why they do not take unto themselves wives from among the pretty young women of the Monumental City. The men wrote to Dr. Wharton, giving him all sorts of reasons, and many of them were not very complimentary. Lots of them spoke of the frivolous, extravagant, pleasure-loving, impractical girls of the day. Many of the conclusions were that a man by getting married, would get him a pretty handicap, an imperialistic impediment, instead of a companionable helpmate. Of course, we can't follow up all the indictments of the men against the girls and the women generally, but what they said was a plenty.

However, the women "come back," and they had their inning against the men on last Sunday when Dr. Wharton preached another one of his matrimonial sermons. He had received letters from women and girls galore, and maybe they didn't roast the men and hand it out good and strong. The church was crowded with men and women, and in the midst of his sermon, Dr. Wharton read one letter after another, giving reasons why the women and girls do not care two straws about any entangling alliance with the average man. The Baltimore Sun says, "every man in the crowded church must have blushed while the shafts of contempt and derision were hurled at him by the tender sex through the minister."

Tender sex? Well, they don't seem to be so very tender in the manner in which they handed lemons to the fellows they have weighed and found wanting. Here are some of the extracts from letters furnishing just a few reasons the girls fight shy of the altar:

"One half the men are not worth marrying; the other half cannot support a wife."

"When the glamour and romance is removed from a man, what is left is not fit to be married."

"An average man's salary cannot afford more than sardines and chipped potatoes."

"A girl cannot afford to give up a good position and home to marry a man and starve with him."

"He is selfish, he causes women to paint and powder and wear 'fashionable' clothes, and last, but not least, he does not 'pop the question'."

Here is the way "a down-town business girl" handed out lemons to the men:

"In the first letter from a downtown business girl was 'When the blindfold is taken off and the woman sees what is left of the man, she does not want what is left. There is some excuse for the stay-at-home girl to be fooled into marriage. She sees man only when on his best behavior and through the glamor of romance. She has no chance really to know him. In business it is different. The girl sees him fool other men too often to give him the chance to fool her. She knows his 'crankiness' and his passions. And when she comes to know the real man she does not want him."

Here is the way a real grouchy sister hits back, because some chinchy fellow had raised a kick because girls expect the fellows to take them to the theatre and blow in wealth on them:

"It is not true that women are to blame for the first floor theatre tickets. Such women are usually permitting an $8-per-week sport to 'show off.' For him do we powder and paint and wear fashionable clothes. He is the cause of the immoral theatres and of the department stores selling finery to women at the price of their souls. If a plain girl gets on a street car, no one notices her. If a flashily dressed woman gets on a dozen men jump to their feet. A man hates to be seen with a plainly dressed girl. One-half of the men are not worth marrying and the other half cannot support a wife and family."

It really seems that Dr. Wharton "started something" when he got the men and the women to sizing up each other, but it looks as if the girls have had the "last word" as usual, and evidently it made Dr. Wharton sorry for the poor fellows, for it appears like he apologized for them when he concluded:

"You women are looking for a perfect man. Why, bless your souls, you will not find a perfect man. You must take him, my sister, for better or worse, come weal, come woe. And you must say, 'God helping me, I will lift a mortal to the skies and not let him drag an angel down."

As a matter of fact, we are prepared to believe the women and men were largely correct in their estimate of each other. It really discloses a bad social condition, and why not start a reform movement based on the indictments, the evidence and the disclosures? Why not rear the girls to be more practical and get them to quit being so finicky. Why not get the young fellows out of the mollycoddle class, and induce them to quit parting their hair in the middle? Get back to the old code for rearing the kind of girls and boys that make women and men.

A Western paper notes "a movement to drain Salt river." Well, of course, that may make the trip up it easier on Lorimer.

Considering how the Supreme Court has swatted the Tobacco Trust, it might be stated that there has been no panic among the smokers of "coffin tacks" and cigars, and not the least mealy-mouthness among the tobacco chewers. All hands will take a hand in the laugh which will be evoked by the idea that a country which builds up trusts by protection should think for a moment it can prevent monopolies by court decisions.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Gen. Theo. F. Davidson, Mr. W. E. Breese, Mr. E. C. Duncan, Mr. C. J. L. Lantry and others representing the South Atlantic Transcontinental Railroad, appeared before Governor Kitchin and Council of State last week, for the purpose of securing convicts to build the road. It appears that this aid had been promised, the State to take pay in stock. The Governor was told that European financiers had signed an agreement to finance the construction of the road from Knoxville, through Asheville to Rutherfordton, and that they reserved the privilege of financing the road from Rutherfordton to Southport within two years. This is the road Col. S. A. Jones conceived and has been prosecuting. From Rutherfordton it will come to Charlotte, thence through Monroe. It is a part of a great transportation system Col. Jones has been developing.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The letter from W. J. Montgomery, Senator from Marion, at least manifests an interest by one of those charged with the commonwealth's welfare in one of the most important matters affecting the State's material development that has come before the Legislature in years. The question raised by Mr. Montgomery is a practical and proper one, but one early considered by the intimate friends of the plan for advertising South Carolina. Mr. Montgomery is willing to support a measure, such as was proposed at the last session of the Legislature, for advertising the resources of South Carolina, provided at least 20,000 acres of good farming land in lots of from 100 to 500 acres are listed with the Commissioner of Agriculture, and not subject to withdrawal for at least six months, except in case of actual sale. In numbers of arguments made for advertising of the State the general plan of listing property was advocated. Several years ago, anticipating demand for South Carolina lands, Commissioner Watson had perhaps 100,000 acres listed in his office. The demand did not come, but when the State is ready to go after settlers the listing of land will be easy. Another thing anticipated in a plan to bring settlers in which the railroads participate was that the roads making an investment for advertising, would be anxious to get returns through the development of the territory served by them, and such desire would stimulate their activity in having unproductive property along their lines placed in the reach of developing settlers. If the same opportunity is offered the Legislature at its next session as was declined last Winter, and the appropriation made for advertising, Senator Montgomery will find that by the time the "copy" for the advertisements can be prepared there will be at least 100,000 acres listed for sale. The act can set a limit. The revelations made by the census reports showing the decrease or stagnation of the rural population in many counties should arouse the Legislature to the necessity for making a progressive move.—Columbia State.

SALARIES OF TEACHERS.

(Communicated.)

It is genuine pleasure that those interested in the cause of education learned from a recent publication that Newbern, N. C., had increased the salaries of it steachers ten per cent. and would pay its teachers yearly salaries, the minimum being $444 per year or $37 per month.

This is a real sign of progress in Newbern and would be received as such a sign if done elsewhere. It is too true and shameful a fact that public school teachers are underpaid considering the duities they perform and the amount expended in acquiring the education to equip for service.

There is too little incentive offered in the salaries paid to make the profession desirable above others. It is one of the noblest of professions but also one of the hardest and the salary paid should justify the choosing of it as a profession and advantageous enough from which to derive a comfortabl living. One of the first needs of a community is a well equipped school house or houses and sufficient funds to secure first-class teachers.

An announcement by the president of the Federation meeting in Asheville, the Federation will work for women representatives on school boards and its Educational Committee will work for increased salaries for first-class teachers.

We congratulate Newbern on her great stride forward and if "nothing sinks so quietly and deeply in men's minds as example" as some one has said so true, then we can hope for this example to be followed in Wilmington and other communities in the State. May the good work go on.

MEN'S STYLES SEEN AT SMART GATHERINGS

At gatherings of well dressed men this season the popularity of the close-front collar is noticeable. Everywhere you go you see it worn by those who pay most careful attention to their attire. When you consider the smart effect that this collar gives, the preference it has over other styles is easily accounted for.

The trouble of buttoning this collar has been done away with since the manufacturers of the LION Brand introduced the "easy slip-over" buttonhole. The wearer no longer has to fuss to keep it close, as these same makers have also perfected the patent "lock-front" that can't spread. These are exclusive LION Collar features and the most popular styles that have them are ALCO and EXPLORER.

CAUSES OF TYPHOID FEVER

Representative of State Board of Health Here Making Investigation—Some Suggestions Made for Public.

At the request of numerous citizens who have made complaint of the unusually large number of cases of typhoid fever here last Summer and the threatened repetition this season, the State Board of Health is now carrying on a careful and thorough investigation with the object of determining the cause or causes of the infection in this city.

Mr. Warren H. Booker, civil engineer, assistant to the secretary of the Board of Health, has arrived in the city and will be here for some days carrying on this investigation. On Thursday he will be joined by Dr. Rankin, the secretary of the State Board of Health, and after going over the situation together at some length will make a report.

Mr. Booker was present at the meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon and at the request of Councilman B. C. Moore made a short talk. He said that in company with Dr. Joseph Akerman, the city superintendent of health, he had visited during the day the waterworks plant and the Macomber's ditch section. He said that he had been called here for the purpose of ascertaining, if possible, the cause of so many cases of typhoid fever. Yesterday morning he gave an order for the printing of a number of forms for physicians' report, giving some detail information as to fever patients under their care, and also a circular letter to the doctors asking their co-operation and urging upon them the importance of advising their patients as to the observance of sanitary rules. A newspaper campaign will also be conducted during the next few weeks. Mr. Booker spoke of the large number of surface closets in Wilmington at the present time and stated that he considered the city in right much of a bad plight, because it would not be right to say to the 4,000 users of surface closets that they must install sanitary closets and then in a few months require them to connect with the municipal sewerage system.

Councilman P. Q. Moore called Mr. Booker's attention to Macomber's ditch, stating that any number of cows drink water from the ditch and that the milk of these cows is consumed by the people of the city. In reply to a question Mr. Booker said that he considered Macomber's ditch an open sewer—a nuisance, yea, more than that—a source of great danger to the community.

Members of Council promised to give Mr. Booker and Dr. Rankin their co-operation in their efforts to ascertain the chief causes of typhoid fever in Wilmington. While the investigation is in progress and until something definite is given out as to the cause, Mr. Booker has offered the following suggestions which he urges the citizens to regard in order to protect themselves and prevent the further spread of the disease:

"1. Typhoid fever is contracted solely by the mouth. If you do not put the poison of typhoid fever into your mouth you will never contract the disease. Therefore watch the mouth.

"2. Do not eat or drink anything, (water, milk, fresh vegetables or anything else) unless it has been boiled, broiled, baked, roasted, fried or otherwise thoroughly heated through and through. Merely heating or warming the article in question is insufficient. We cannot be sure that all disease germs are destroyed under less than 20 minutes' boiling.

"3. Do without all food or drink which has not first been thus heated. Canned or bottled foods or drinks (other than milk or water) are not included in this.

"4. If living in the same house with a typhoid fever patient, do not handle your own food, or food intended for anyone else, even if it has been heated, except with hands that have been thoroughly washed with soap and very hot water. (Preferably also with antiseptic.) Ask your physician about the antiseptic to use.) Wash before every meal in this way and before cooking, serving or eating anything or putting the fingers in the mouth.

"5. If there are flies about, see that all food and drink is protected from them at all times. Flies often carry the germs of typhoid to foods and drinks.

"6. The poison of typhoid fever does not show itself for two weeks after it enters the body. Therefore for the next two weeks typhoid cases may develop from typhoid poison already taken in. But any case which develops on and after this date will be due solely to neglect of this notice and failure to carry out minutely the directions here given."

RETAIL MERCHANTS ELECT

Annual Meeting of Wilmington Association Last Night—Supper in Masonic Temple—Delegates to State Convention.

Unquestionably the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of the Wilmington Retail Merchants' Association was the annual session and supper in the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple last night. The association is composed of most all the retail dealers and all are enthusiastic over the splendid success of the organization especially during the past few months. It is hoped that in a short time every merchant in Wilmington eligible for membership will be affiliated with the organization.

After an enjoyable supper, the meeting was called to order by President A. M. Hall. A number of matters of interest and importance to the organization were considered, after which the president was authorized to appoint two delegates to the annual convention to be held at Hendersonville, June 20th to 22nd. President Hall appointed Messrs. E. H. Munson and G. Henry Haar, as the delegates. Time for the election of officers and one of the board of directors having arrived, Mr. L. Stein moved that the rules be suspended and that the old officers be re-elected and in addition that Mr. E. H. Munson be elected a member of the board of directors. President Hall protested so far as the motion concerned himself. The motion was put to a vote by Mr. J. H. Rehder and carried unanimously. The officers of the association are:

President—A. M. Hall.
Vice-President—B. G. Moore.
Treasurer—Jos. A. Price.
Secretary—S. R. Keyes.

The Retail Merchants' Association, as the general public knows, is an organization composed of the leading individuals, firms and corporations doing a retail business in Wilmington, and the objects of the Association are concisely set forth in article 2 of its constitution which reads as follows: "The objects of this Association are for the mutual protection, to encourage improved business methods and generally to advance the interests of retail merchants, to secure more friendly relations among all retailers who desire to advance their mutual welfare, to secure legislation favorable to their interests, and oppose such legislation as would prove detrimental to their welfare."

Necessity has been truly said to be the mother of invention. Of recent years the need for a closer relationship between business enterprises has called into existence numerous organizations, both local and national in scope. Wilmington has taken the lead among the cities of North Carolina in organizing her mercantile interests into associations which specialize along lines having to do more particularly with the use and abuse of credit.

"All of the wholesale jobbing houses of this market are almost without exception, members of the local Association of Credit Men, which not only brings them in touch with one another, but in touch with jobbing houses over the entire country through its affiliation with the National Association. A majority of the Wilmington jobbers went a step beyond this and organized within the Association of Credit Men, a Bureau of Credits, which eliminates, for its members, the former necessity of asking a new customer for references. This is accomplished through the medium of daily reports containing tabulated summarized ledger information, this being conceded by experts to be the best means with which to judge a buyer's condition.

To the retail merchants of Wilmington belongs the credit of having taken the initiative in the matter of organization. The Retail Merchants' Association is in reality a local branch of the North Carolina Retail Merchants Association, and has been for over two years, during which time the members have learned that many heads are better than one; that it is safer to be guided by the experience of others than to follow one's own desire for the amount of sales, without proper regard for quality.

In speaking of the organization one of the members said: "In this century, the up-to-date business man realizes that system in every department is a prerequisite to material progress, and that carelessness as to who and who not to credit will surely prevent such a house from keeping pace with those competitors sustaining a lower percentage of loss by reason of a greater care with regard to credits. The retrogressive house is in all probability either holding aloof from its organized neighbors or neglecting the advantages to be gained by properly using its membership in an organization.

"Thoroughly organized associations make it practically impossible for that human parasite, colloquially known as 'dead beat,' to work down one side of a street, going his limit in each store, only to come back on the other side still at the same game; although, as long as goods are sold on credit there will remain some of that same class, who, by their pleasing manner and plausible explanation of future prospects, succeed in swinging a merchant's faith, hope and charity sufficiently to overcome his business judgment.

"Analysis of a large number of individual cases has shown conclusively that, if John Doe had been an undesirable credit customer with four merchants, he will turn out likewise with a fifth. The exception only goes to prove the rule, that the experience of others is the surest and safest guide to follow in granting credit, whetre wholesale or retail.

REGULAR MEETING OF COUNCIL

Members of City Board of Health are Named—Plea for Increased Pay of Firemen—Other Matters Considered.

The City Council met for the regular weekly meeting at 4 o'clock yesterday afternon and was in open session for nearly two hours before going into executive session. Mayor Joseph D. Smith presided and in attendance were all the members, Councilmen P. Q. and B. C. Moore, W. E. Perdew and M. G. Tiencken; Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk; City Attorney Herbert McClammy, and several interested spectators.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, was heard with reference to proposed changes and improvements to be made in the city health department. He has been very much interested in this work, especially in the southern section of the State and has been able to get first-hand knowledge of conditions. He was very much impressed with the work of the two district nurses, at first supported by private charity, but now maintained by organizations composed of ladies. One of the nurses is white and the other colored and they are doing a splendid work. Mr. Noe recommended that the city employ a nurse, making three all told, and he thought she would do much of the work that would otherwise have to be done by the city physician. He also suggested the establishment of a dispensary in the northern section of the city and another in the south section to be in charge of nurses. Mr. Noe thought that some arrangement should be made by which the city physician should attend the indigent poor. He did not think that the city physician would be imposed upon by the people. The Council was pleased to hear the suggestions of Mr. Noe and will give them consideration.

Mr. D. R. Foster, the real estate dealer, was before the board with reference to providing a number for his handsome new office building on south side of Princess, between Front and Second. The matter was referred to Councilman B. C. Moore.

Ex-Alderman J. B. Fales was before the Council to talk on the chicken business. He said that not all the people who deal in chickens have sanitary coops, and as the chickens have to be kept on the inside of the store any number of them die of fever and have to be thrown out. He thought all should be required to provide a sanitary coop, so that people would not be sold sick chickens, and he also recommended that the coops be again permitted to occupy a small space on the sidewalk. There was no action.

Mr. Henry B. Peschau, of the Central Ice Co., was before the Council to ask that an amendment be adopted to the ordinance relative to the weighing of ice from wagons, so that the drivers would not be compelled to weigh the ice except where this is demanded by the customer. The discovery of such an ordinance was made Monday as the result of a protest from a small consumer who wrote the Mayor that he was getting only six and seven pounds of ice for 10 pounds since the formation of the selling company. After some discussion the amendment was adopted, but it is not effective for 10 days and in the meantime the ice sold from the wagons must be weighed.

Mr. L. Freimuth, foreman of one of the companies of the fire department, appealed to the Council to increase the salaries of the firemen, especially some of the more efficient men. He also called attention to the fact that the foreman of a company, who is responsible to the chief for the entire company and the equipment under his control, should receive more money than is paid the engineer, which is not now the case. Mayor Smith said that the budget had already been made up and he did not think Council could increase the pay of firemen this year, however, the matter would be given consideration.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, representing 15 laborers who have filed liens against bridge materials at Sixth street bridge, was present to inquire what Council is going to do about the bridge. It was stated that City Engineer F. F. Pillet, of Mobile, Ala., will arrive in the city today and the question of resuming work on the bridge, payment of the liens, etc., will be taken up the first thing.

City Board of Health.

The joint committee named to inquire into the matter of consolidating the city and county healt hoffices recommended, in its report Monday afternoon, that a City Board of Health be created, to be composed of the Mayor, city engineer, city superintendent of health, one layman and two practicing physicians. Acting favorably upon this recommendation the Council yesterday afternoon elected as members of this board: Dr. Andrew H. Harriss, who was a member of the old board of health; Dr. John C. Wessell and ex-Alderman B. O. Stone.

Mr. W. B. Ennett, the present very efficient janitor of the City Hall, was re-elected to this position.

The Council may have a meeting this afternoon to take up the matter of city superintendent of health. The budget cannot be completed until this matter has been settled.

PASSED IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

Ordinance Permitting the Near-Beer Saloons to Remain Open During June Upon Payment of Tax of $50.

Although it was decided some days ago that there would be no legalized near-beer saloons in Wilmington after May 31st, the City Council in executive session yesterday afternoon unanimously voted to grant license to near-beer dealers until July 1st, when the State law prohibiting the sale of near-beer is effective, the amount of the tax being fixed at $50 for this period.

It was stated that the reason the license will be granted is that the city attorney had advised that the places could keep open anyway as the State will grant license until July 1st and that this being so the city might as well get the revenue and at the same time keep the places subject to the ordinance regulating near-beer places. The following is the ordinance which was adopted by the board and which permits the near-beer saloons to operate during the month of June:

"Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Wilmington, That any one engaged in the sale of near-beer under license expiring May 31st A. D., 1911, be, and they are hereby permitted to continue the sale of near-beer until and including the 30th day of June, 1911, upon the payment in advance of Fifty dollars, subject to the rules, penalties, regulations and police surveillance prescribed in an ordinance relating to near-beer, in force since the first day of June A. D., 1910."

The request for the executive session was made by City Attorney McClammy about 6 o'clock just after Mayor Smith had called attention of the Council to the statement of a local attorney to the effect that Council should issue license to persons to engage in the sale of malt and leave it for the courts to determine what is meant by the word malt. Councilmen Perdew and B. C. Moore stated that the matter of granting license to do a malt business had already been settled and as there was no motion to further consider the matter, a request was made by Mr. McClammy for an executive session, stating that he had three court opinions to call to the attention of the Council while the assistant city attorney, Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., was present. A vote was taken and it was unanimously decided to hold an executive session, both doors to the Mayor's office being closed and bolted. It is understood that the opinions referred to related to the granting of licenses to near-beer dealers and that under these decisions Mr. McClammy advised the Council that license might as well be issued for the month of June. It is said that Mr. McClammy advised that as the city had been granting licenses and that inasmuch as the State would permit near-beer saloons to continue in operation until July 1st the city could not prevent them from doing business in this city even if no tax was required; but that on the other hand they could remain open upon payment of the small State tax and the city would be deprived not only of the revenue but of the right to require observance of the old near-beer ordinance. It was given out after the meeting that the Councilmen regretted to grant license and that it was an involuntary act on their part. It will be recalled that when the matter was up some days ago the city attorney advised that the Council would have a right to refuse to grant license and that if any place opened in the city after June 1st they could be indicted. It was upon this advice that the decision to not grant the license was reached. In the meantime, the city attorney found authority which satisfied him that his first opinion was in error.

There was heard much criticism last night of Council for its action in going into executive session on this matter. It is understood that the screen ordinance was discussed during the executive session, but that no action was taken. Members are quoted as saying that there will be no change of the screen ordinance. It was 7:25 when the executive session ended and Council adjourned to meet at the call of the Mayor.

There are those who confidently believe that the Council will grant license for the sale of malt, fixing the license at say $200 a year, which would be construing Section 61 of the Revenue and Machinery Act to mean malt extract. However, Council has declined to grant any license for malt after receiving the opinion of the Attorney General as given in yesterday's paper.

KILLED WIFE, SHOT SELF

Jealousy Cause of Tragedy in Southern Part of City—Negro Woman Dead and Husband Seriously Wounded.

In a rage because she left him last Thursday and had not returned, William Stepney, colored, about 25 years old, shot and instantly killed his wife at No. 713 South Twelfth street, next door to their home, at 3:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and then turned the weapon upon himself with the result that he is probably mortally wounded, though he is said to have a chance of recovery.

The woman was shot in the right breast, death ensuing instantly, while the man shot himself in the left side, one of the bullets probably penetrating a lung, for he expectorated blood while being carried to the hospital. A telephone message was received at the City Hall shortly after 3 o'clock that a terrible tragedy had been enacted on South Twelfth street, at the number given, and Chief of Police Fowler and other officers hurried to the scene. When they arrived they found the body of the woman on the ground near a pile of lumber, and her husband's head was pillowed against her breast. It was evident that the woman was dead and the man appeared to be lifeless also. Chief of Police Fowler called for the ambulance, which arrived in the remarkably short time of 20 minutes. In the meantime, the officer was busy in administering to the wounded negro as best he could. Stepney was sent to the hospital for attention and the body of the woman was turned over to the coroner, who in turn gave permission for its removal.

Chief of Police Fowler made inquiries as to the cause and circumstances of the shooting and he found that on last Thursday the woman left her husband, who was naturally enraged, being of a very jealous disposition. Yesterday Stepney was standing in front of his house when his wife passed. He accosted her and she stepped from the street into a vacant lot. Stepney drew his pistol and shot her through the right breast. She reeled and fell over, dead. Stepney then lay down beside her. Hearing the report of the pistol a large number of negroes soon gathered. Stepney told the negroes that he desired the body of his wife sent to Southport for burial and then gave similar directions for his own burial, after which he turned the fatal pistol upon himself, sending two bullets into his left side. The negro fell over as if he were dead and in a short time the report was all over the city that a double tragedy had been enacted. The negro was conscious all the time, however, and when the ambulance arrived, he reached over and kissed his dead wife before he left for the hospital. An Iver-Johnson pistol was used. It was stated that the woman was on her way to the National cemetery to attend the memorial day celebration when accosted and killed by her husband.

A LARGE CONTRACT.

What J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., Wants Every Person in Wilmington to Do.

When J. Hicks Bunting, the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50 ct. package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, he thought it probable from his experience with other medicines for these diseases that he would have a good many packages returned. But although he has sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

To those suffering with dizziness, headache, poor digestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief. It is an invaluable boon to all who feel uncomfortable after eating, and is today the popular dinner pill in all the large cities.

SCHUBERT HALL RECITAL ON YESTERDAY EVENING.

(Written for the Star.)

Miss Katie Foard, a pupil of Miss Cannie Chasten, had the honor of giving one of the best piano recitals of the season yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock in Schubert Hall. Her execution, with its undercurrent of sympathy is not wanting in either breadth or repose. Her playing has a charm which is not altogether a result of her pianistic ability, but also of a winning and pleasing personality, the combination forming an attractive musical feature. She was assisted by Miss Lucy McIntosh, soprano, and Mr. Frank McCravy, tenor. Miss McIntosh, with her clear, liquid soprano, sang simply from the heart, with purity and warmth. In the Spring Song, so full of life, her golden tone made it a song of joy. Mr. McCravy, with a half tear in his voice, which is of a wonderfully sweet and sympathetic quality, sang with fine appreciation of both the words and of the music. His enunciation, perfect breath control and intelligent phrasing combine to make his singing a delight. The following was the programme rendered:

Sonata in A minor.....Mozart
Allegro maestoso,
Andante cantabile con expressione,
Presto
L'Heure Exquise .....Reynaldo Hahn
It is Spring Time.....Grace Gardner
Arabesque in E.....Debussy
Prelude in A minor.....Chaminade
Dreams .....Anton Strelezke
Absent ..... Metcalf
Concerte Etude .....MacDowell

MEMORIAL SCHOOL BUILDING.

Chairman of Board of Education Makes Statement.

Editor of The Star:—The article printed in the Evening Dispatch yesterday afternoon to the effect that Mr. Samued Bear, Jr., had offered to the Board of Education a school building valued at $30,000 was unauthorized by Mr. Bear or the Board of Education and is largely untrue, and no representative of the Dispatch has endeavored to ascertain the facts from Mr. Bear or from any one authorized to speak on the subject. Mr. Bear, who has been on one of the school committees for a long time, has taken great interest in the schools and knows their needs, has expressed his willingness to help the schools in a modest way, possibly by the donation of a school house in some section of the city where it is most needed, provided the Board of Education could furnish a desirable site; but he has never definitely fixed the amount and has never contemplated any such amount as $30,000. With the hope that something could be done along the lines suggested, I have inquired of a number of real estate owners, and others as to prices and as to possible sites, but with the understanding that the matter was unsettled and strictly confidential. I deprecate very much that anyone should jeopardize an undertaking of this importance by publishing a sensational statement without inquiring as to its truth. The public will no doubt appreciate deeply anything Mr. Bear may be able to do for the education of their children, however modest, and I hope will cooperate with the Board of Education and school committeemen in their efforts to carry his purpose into effect.

J. O. CARR,
Chairman Board of Education.

JOHN BRADSHAW ARRESTED.

Grocer Charged With Violation of the Prohibition Law.

John Bradshaw, a white man, who has been doing a small grocery business at northeast corner of Sixth and Harnett streets, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with selling a half pint of whiskey to Joe Hobbs, the same witness who appears in the case against Ralph Kennedy, who was arrested Monday night. Officers looked for Bradshaw Monday night and all of yesterday until the hour of the arrest, before he was located. He was given berth at the city prison, being unable to give the $200 bond required. The officers did not have any authority to search the place of Bradshaw, as they did Kennedy's place Monday night. Kennedy operates under a near-beer license, while Bradshaw was doing business under a general dealers' license. Bradshaw was formerly in the near-beer business at Fourth and Harnett streets, the name of the firm being Bradshaw & Co., the license being revoked by the Board of Aldermen, after which Bradshaw embarked in the grocery business at Sixth and Harnett streets.

The white boys who shot a negro in the northern part of the city some weeks ago, stated that they got their whiskey at Bradshaw's place, so it was said, at police headquarters.

Last night Thomas Mask Jones, colored, was arrested at Nut and Red Cross streets, on a warrant charging him with the sale of a half pint of whiskey to Joe Hobbs. He gave $100 bond for his appearance at trial before the Recorder this morning. Mr. D. N. Chadwick, Jr., being surety. It is alleged that the negro was in the place conducted by another dealer at Nutt and Red Cross streets, when Hobbs purchased the whiskey.

BOND ELECTION TODAY.

People of County to Determine Matter of Issuing Road Bonds.

An election will be held in this county today for the purpose of determining the question of issuing $50,000 bonds for roads and bridges. There has not been any great amount of interest shown in the election and there are not a great many registered. The vote will be very small. The champions of the bond issue believe that a majority of those registered and who expect to vote are favorable to the proposition, while there has developed no formidable opposition. The money is very much needed now in order to pay New Hanover's portion of the cost of the proposed bridge over the Northeast connecting Pender county; pay New Hanover's part of the cost of the free ferry and have some left for road improvement.

It is understood that both sides are ready for trial and that the case will be taken up this morning.

COOKING DEMONSTRATIONS.

Last of Fourth Street Exhibits by Mrs. Whitted Tonight.

The last of the North Fourth street series of cooking demonstrations will be given tonight by Mrs. Whitted in the Genaust Store, opposite Rehder's. Large crowds have attended for the past two nights, and tonight bids fair to outdo them all in attendance. At the close of the demonstrations the awarding of the gas range will take place. Beginning Thursday night the demonstrations will be given in the hall in rear of the Church of the Good Shepherd, and it is very probable that the same menus will be given here, that were given on North Fourth street, as demonstrations there covered about every feature of gas cookery. The menus of next week will embrace much of the fancy cookery, besides the every day, practical preparation. Many are taking advantage of Mrs. Whitted's presence in the city in getting her recipes, which are given without charge.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow, I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl." —Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

They're the kind of clothes that help a man; they've a classy look of high-grade distinction; there's a quality of all-wool weave, a finished look of tailoring, a smartness of style, about these clothes which you won't get in any other way; it is the indefinable "air" about them that is alone worth all you pay for the clothes.

A. & M. COMENCEMENT.

Change Name of Publication—Tha Addresses—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—At a special meeting of the Athletic Council held yesterday it was decided to name the new weekly newspaper, the official organ of the Athletic Association, "Wau-Gau-Rac." This name was suggested by the fact that it is the name of one of the leading yells of the college, the one in which every A. & M man always joins. This paper will serve as a means of holding together all A. & M. men, and will materially help them in keeping up with all the activities of the college. The editor-in-chief, H. P. Whitted, is now at work selecting the board of editors and may not announce his personnel until next September when college opens.

Commencement exercises started yesterday with the baccalureate sermon by Rev. David J. Wods, of Plaeksburg, Va. Dr. Wood's sermon was heard by a large audience.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held this morning at which the following officers for next year were elected: President, G. Y. Stradley, of Roanoke, Va.; vice president, Redford Brown, of Charlotte, N. C.; secretary and treasurer, Robert Wyatt, of Raleigh, N. C. R. H. Merritt, Alumni Representative, and W. C. Etheridge, assistant Alumni Representative, were both re-elected for the coming year.

The alumni address wes delivered last night in the Pullen Hall by D. D. Faucette, of New York, followed by the annual address by Judge George D. Alden, of Boston.

The two literary societies, the Leazar and the Pullen, have elected the following men to take charge of the "Red and White," the former official organ of the Athletic Association, and to publish it entirely as a literary magazine beginning with the opening of the college next Fall: From the Pullen Literary Society, editor-in-chief, B. M. Potter; assistant business manager, C. F. Gore; agricultural editor, T. H. Stafford; literary editor, K. M. Fetzer; exchange editor, R. L. Sloan; athletic editor, D. W. Seifert. From the Leazar Literary Society, business manager, H. L. Taylor; assistant editor-in-chief, T. J. Hewitt, local editor, A. K. Robertson; comic editor, S. J. Kirby; engineering editor, C. W. Lee; chemistry and textile, A. W. Taylor.

The Pullen Literary Society has elected the following officers for next year: President, T. H. Seifert; vice president, D. W. Seifert; secretary, R. L. Sloan; treasurer, B. M. Potter; chaplain, George Brice; critic, W. R. Mann; librarian, R. E. Stevens.

BUNCOMBE SUPERIOR COURT.

Four Weeks Term Begins—More Tigers Raised—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., May 30.—The civil term of Superior Court for Buncombe county opened today for a four-weeks session with Judge Frank Carter presiding. A three-weeks calendar has been prepared but it is highly probable that as usual there will be a number of cases on the calendar continued for another term. Of the 62 cases calendared four are against the Southern Railway, four against the Asheville Electric Company, and eleven by the city of Asheville against property owners in which paving assessments are involved.

After playing the five beginning games of the season on the home diamond and winning them all, the Asheville baseball team of the Appalachian League, is now playing a series of games at Bristol. The Mountaineers stand at the top of the percentage column with 1,000. Two of the five games were played with Bristol and three with Cleveland, Tenn. In the five games that have been played the Mountaineers have made 36 runs, 60 hits and 12 errors.

The incorrigible Wiley P. Black was arrested again Sunday morning for violating the search and seizure law. He was arrested along with one W. S. Bradley, and later in the day Ed. Brown, colored, who is alleged to be employed by Black, was arrested for selling whiskey and placed in the city jail.

The officers had some difficulty in gaining an entrance to Black's place, having been refused admittance, however they went in through a window and the search resulted in finding 26 bottles of whiskey and a few bottles of beer. It is said that at the time the officers were effecting an entrance they heard the sound of breaking bottles and when they entered they found a number of broken bottles that had never been opened.

TURPOILINE

CHEAPER THAN TURPENTINE

It is an odorless mineral product, which possesses great solvent power for paints and varnishes, has the requisite high flash for working and the clean evaporation which leaves the coating in perfect condition.

TURPOILINE makes a free flowing varnish, free from bloom. It flat colors better than turpentine.

TURPOILINE is thorough uniform; you can be assured of receiving the same product all the time.

TURPOILINE costs less and works well.

TURPOLINE is the most satisfactory product on the market for the paint and varnish man.

Try TURPOILINE. One thorough trial will convince you.

"RULE OF REASON" TO FIGHT TRUSTS

a consideration of the whole legislation or of the circumstances surrounding its enactment or of the absurd results which follow from giving such broad meaning to the words, make it unreasonable to believe that the legislator intended to include the particular act.'

"The whole of this opinion constitutes in effect an argument that a literal construction should not be given to the statute, but a reasonable interpretation, not the 'rule of the letter which kills' the court which concurred in that opinion included Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justices Brewer and Brown. These jurists deliberately adjudged that a case, which concededly was within the express language of the statute, was not controlled by it, because the acts complained of, although within the letter, were not within the intention of Congress. This was nothing more or less than applying to the construction and application of statute the rule of construction invoked by the Chief Justice in the Standard Oil case, namely, that of examining the case by the light of reason lest the literal construction and application of the law should bring about the very destruction and restraint of all trade and commerce which it is the purpose of the statute to prevent.

"Or, as was said in the 'joint traffic case, by Justice Peckham himself, 'the act of Congress must have a reasonable construction or else there would scarcely be an agreement or contract among business men that could be said to have indirectly or remotely some bearing on interstate commerce and possibly to restrain it.'

"The decision in the case of the Church of the Holy Trinity clearly demonstrates that no new principle is introduced by the rule of construction adopted by the court in both the Standard Oil and the tobacco cases, but that the same rule was applied there which often has been applied before of reading several words in a statute by the light of the reason for the enactment of the statute, the history of the evil which gave rise to the legislation, and the purpose for which the legislation was enacted; and the further duty to give to the words of a statute, if possible, an interpretation which, while accomplishing the result avoid the untoward consequences which would necessarily follow a narrow and literal interpretation of its meaning."

Little delay may be expected in the issuance of the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United State which will put into effect its decree in either the tobacco suit or the Standard Oil case, just decided by that tribunal.

The court's mandate in the latter case will probably be issued at the request of the Department of Justice as soon as the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court is opened tomorrow. Had this not been a public holiday it probably would have been issued today. The six months given to the Standard Oil Company to dissolve will begin with the issuance of the mandate of the court. It will be directed to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Missouri in which the case originated. It is regarded as more than doubtful if the tobacco corporations avail themselves of the opportunity granted by the court just before it adjourned to file a motion for a rehearing within 30 days. The attitude of the court is regarded as hostile to such a request.

Chief Justice White has let the corporations understand that a delay of 30 days in presenting an unsuccessful petition for re-hearing will mean that the six or eight months given them to get into harmony with the law will be reduced just as many days.

Statement From Kellogg.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—Frank B. Kellogg, who successfully prosecuted the Standard Oil dissolution suit on behalf of the government, said today after reading the Associated Press account of the United States Supreme Court decision in the American Tobacco Company case:

"I can find no cause for uneasiness in the recently enunciated doctrine of 'reasonable restraint'.

"I have not read the complete opinion in the tobacco case. I judge, however, that the government won on every contention, and that the case is simply sent back to the court below to enable the court to enter a decree to completely sever the various properties which had been conveyed to the American Tobacco Company.

"There was no necessity for sending the Standard Oil case back, because the decree in the court, below was a complete severance of the corporations. Taking the Standard Oil case and the tobacco case together, I do not see any loophole through which the trusts can escape. Any combination or monopoly, whatever form it takes, can be reached under the rule laid down in these decisions."

Planning to Re-adjust Trust.

New York, May 30.—The American Tobacco Company will undertake in all good faith, a re-adjustment of its affairs as directed by the United States Supreme Court, according to an official statement carefully prepared by officers of the company and given out this afternoon by W. W. Fuller, the corporation's chief counsel.

"The Supreme Court in this case," read the statement, "has said that the Sherman anti-trust law should be given an application more extensive than has been given in any other case. It has said that the American Tobacco Company is embraced within its terms. My clients, of course, will obey the law as now interpreted and will, in good faith, undertake the readjustment of their affairs under the direction of the Circuit Court of the Southern District of New York to which court the Supreme Court has remitted the matter for direction."

Said Delancey Nicoll who assisted in presenting the case to the Supreme Court for the company: "It is probable that a general plan will be agreed upon for the conducting of the business as directed by the court. We shall prepare a plan which we shall consider undeniably agreeable to the court. This will require long planning and attention to detail, and it will be long before the full proposition will have been worked out."

...ese things. Forests are swept from the hills and no man knows where they fall. Your own State of North Carolina has suffered. Men were exploiting their fellows for private gain with youthful extravagance and youthful inadvertence, but the country is coming to itself. We have been made fools of. Americans have not kept control of their own lives. Law classes are taught rights and duties, but too much stress is laid upon the former and too little on the latter. Our duty is to use property so it will not be detrimental to our neighbors.

The problem of the future is to gain control of our own. All programmes of progress are ones of receiving, of readjustment.

I am two kinds of a Democrat. I was born a Democrat and when I grew up I convinced myself that this was the thing to be.

The stand-pat Republican doctrines is that government is a trusteeship and the trustees should be those having the biggest interests at stake. I utterly dissent from this doctrine. The president of the steel corporation is so immerced in the control of business, he has no time to learn about the country. Such positions exact every moment of thought and energy.

We have no blood in our eye. We do not wish to destroy prosperity, but we want the point of view changed and it is changing.

Lawyers, listen to me now. Who need to call me an agitator or what they thought carried more reproach than an academic theorist. One year ago certain men of big business cried, "let us alone, take hands off or you disturb prosperity."

We do not hear that cry now; first, it is no use, and secondly, honest men of business are having the veil drawn from their eyes and see they have been partners of pitiless pirate who stopped at nothing to attain their desire, even though they crushed every drop of blood. Don't go out as stupid useless cynics. Find where the point in the armor of the enemy is and strike.

The partnership between the Republicans and the interests has in some part of the country been extended to the Democratic party, however, not in this part. Thus both parties often exist for the purpose of doing the will of irresponsible men in power. We must put on war paint. It is not a matter of getting elected to office.

It is neither a matter of simply knowing what to talk about and talking about it. I have been accused of being a schoolmaster. I am a school master. I take it to be the function of the schoolmaster to find out things and tell about them. We do not have to get an office to serve.

People want to get at the facts and apply the old American tests. What is distinctive of America? That every part of her policy is sought to be conceived in the interest of mankind. For this reason we open our doors to all the world. Let him who preaches against immigration take a trip to Europe and back and observe the difference in the appearance of the immigrants returning to Europe after a few years' residence in this country and those coming to this country fresh from Europe. We do not have to wait even two generations to see the effect of American institutions. The life of an American is something that could not be achieved under any other atmosphere. That atmosphere is individual liberty. You must not go out from the university without taking with you the ghosts of the past. Do not forget how many men have sacrificed themselves for us. These men (the Confederate soldiers before him) have done a thing to make them immortal. They risked all for a cause with absolute self abdication (loud applause.)

That man has found himself who has learned to love another better than himself and to love a cause better than those near him.

In the words of Richard Lovelace: "I could not love thee dear so much, loved I not honor more."

The degree of LL.D. was conferred upon Dr. Wilson by Dean Raper, of the graduate school. He characterized Governor Wilson as a statesman of vigorous ideals, real courage, and tremendous power.

President Venable announced that the Mangum medal for the best orator in college had been awarded to C. E. McIntosh, and the Bingham medal for debate to D. B. Teague. No honorary degrees were conferred with the exception of the one upon Governor Wilson.

Asked as to his Presidential candidacy, he said: "It's too far off to talk about."

AFTERMATH OF THE WRECK.

Engineer Lindsay's Body Recovered—Scene of the Disaster.

Shelby, May 30.—Engineer J. Mack Lindsay's remains were recovered from the wreckage at Watkins' trestle this morning by the two wrecking crews, after working all day yesterday and last night removing glass and steel and coal that covered him. It was exactly thirty-seven hours from the time of the fatal collapse of the wooden trestle till the body was taken from the debris. The body was mangled and mutilated almost beyond recognition. The remains were brought to a local undertaker this morning and after being prepared for burial will be sent to Cherryville on a special train at noon.

Mr. Lindsay was 48 years old and has a wife and two sons. The interment will take place at Cherryville this afternoon.

Both negroes will recover. One said last night that the collapse was sudden and both engines dropped before they were aware of impending disaster. Dry weather and weakness of the wooden trestle are said to be the cause of the wreck.

The report that the trestle was burning is erroneous. It will take two days to clear away wreckage so that traffic can be resumed.

A CARD.

To those who were so kind and comforting to me during my sad hours when I lost my dear wife, I wish to thank most sincerely and express my deepest appreciation for their tender kindness and sympathy.

CRAVEN'S FARM SCHOOL.

Public Meeting for Passing on Location at Newbern, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., May 30.—The public meeting held at the Court House last night, gave full expression as being favorable for securing the farm life school for the eighth township and only asked to be shown the way to get this school.

J. A. Bryan called Mayor McCarthy to preside, and the newspaper men were made secretaries. Mr. Bryan in behalf of the committee appointed by the trustees of Newbern Graded School, presented a resolution favoring securing this farm life school to be located near Newbern. The speaker went on to show what proportion of the entire county tax the eighth township paid and that if the township paid six-eighths anyway, it would be better as the tax must be paid to have the school near Newbern in order to gain the great benefits that were certain to follow its establishment.

C. D. Bradham suggested that all work to secure the school for this township and let the matter of its location be determined after getting the school.

G. T. Richardson wanted the school in the eighth and near Bellair. Two or three of the farmers in his neighborhood had offered 25 or more acres as ground for the school. J. H. Stevenson favored the Bellair section and told of land offers. J. B. Blades gave his reasons for favoring the location near Newbern and offered to give any assistance that he might be asked for. W. D. McIver disagreed as to the eighth and gave his reasons for favoring seventh. T. A. Green spoke for the eighth. E. M. Green gave a full explanation of the school bill as to county voting upon it, bonds and what was necessary to secure location. R. A. Nunn also spoke on the provisions contained in bill governing the establishment of the school. On further discussion Mayor McCarthy was instructed to call a public meeting to be held at the Court House next Saturday at 1 P. M., at which the citizens of the eighth township were urged to be present to hear the report of the committee. On motion the following resolution was passed:

"That a committee be elected by this meeting to receive offers from all persons disposed to make them and report to this meeting at an adjourned session to be held at the Court Houe next Saturday at 1 o'clock."

The following committee was appointed: R. A. Nunn, chairman; E. M. Green, C. L. Stevens, W. G. T. Richardson, T. A. Green, O. G. Dunn, W. H. Bray, J. H. Stevenson, J. B. Blades.

AFFAIRS AT LAURINBURG.

Recorder Has Enlarged Jurisdiction—Shooting Affair.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Laurinburg, N. C., May 29.—Recorder W. F. Benton heard his first case today under the law pased by the recent Legislature giving to him concurrent jurisdiction with the Superior Court in whiskey cases. D. D. Ammons and John Wade, both white, were tried today for retailing and were sentenced to pay a fine of $75 or to be sent to the public roads for four months. Both cases were appealed and both defendants were remanded to jail in default of appeal bonds.

As the result of the recent wind storm many farmers of the county are plowing and replanting large parts of their crops. The damage which was caused by the storm can not be estimated at present, but it is generally believed to be very great.

Mr. J. P. McRae, who has been very ill recently, is rapidly recovering and is expected to be entirely well within a few days.

A serious shooting affair ocurred in the southern part of the county a few days ago in which Bud Williams, colored, was the victim. Williams is now in the James Sanitorium at the point of death. Williams and his wife separated some months ago, she going to the southern part of the county where the shooting occurred. Williams went from Laurinburg to see his wife but was denied the privilledge. He claims that as he turned to go away he was shot in the arm by a shotgun and through the body with a pistol. Traumatic pneumonia has developed from the wound through the lung. Three parties are in jail awaiting the result.
